

Climate Adaptation Resources for Ontario - Ressources d'adaptation climatique pour l'Ontario

1.1 Climate Projections / Scenarios

Ontario Climate Data Portal:

There are a wide range of Ontario-specific climate data available. However, users do not have information on which data should be used or in some cases the resources or expertise to collate the information into a form that meets their needs. To meet the requirements the Climate Change Group at LAMPS, York University has been generating a coordinated and easy-to-use projections for climate change in Ontario.

Ontario Climate Consortium

<https://climateconnections.ca/>

Partners: TRCA, York U Faculty of Environmental Studies, Region of Peel, McMaster Centre for Climate Change, U of Guelph

- interdisciplinary network of academics and practitioners collaborating to support climate action.
- Established in 2011, the OCC works collaboratively with university researchers and partners from the public, private and NGO sectors on projects aimed at answering specific questions related to climate change and creating the intelligence necessary to address climate risk. Its formal mission: To arm decision makers with “regionally-specific climate data, intelligence and adaptation services that enable effective policy and investment responses to climate uncertainty in Ontario.”
